UGASF membership meeting report.

May 31, 2017

United German American Society of Florida, Inc., the umbrella organization of German American clubs in Florida was formed in 1991 for members to get together, exchange ideas, help and get to know each other, mingle, and above all to promote German Gemuetlichkeit.

After 25 years, the main event being "German Heritage Day" 2017, the committee was unable to get enough members interested, and had to cancel the event, because 25 days prior to the event only 98 tickets were sold.

At the April 29 meeting, the members considered the importance of German Heritage Day celebration and voted to keep it alive.

A committee is charged with finding ways and means and location for German Heritage Day 2018. Most members are thinking that it is time to scale down the cost of the event by utilizing lower cost music, entertainment and more affordable food and drink. In other words: keep it simple.

Sites considered for German Heritage Day 2018 celebration are: Pinellas Park, Casselberry, or Cape Coral.
